

STOXX® GLOBAL BROAD INFRASTRUCTURE INDEX

Index description

The STOXX Global Broad Infrastructure Index is derived from the STOXX Developed and Emerging Markets Total Market Index (TMI) and offers a diversified representation of companies that generate more than 50% of their revenue from selected infrastructure sectors. STOXX partnered with Revere Data, which defines 17 subsectors for the infrastructure industry. These 17 subsectors are rolled into five supersectors - Communications, Energy, Government Outsourcing/Social, Transportation and Utilities.

Key facts

» Infrastructure companies display a lower sensitivity to market cycles compared to the broader equity market, thereby mitigating their losses in bear markets

» Companies display significantly lower cash flow and operating income variability compared to the broader equity market, indicating that infrastructure companies are subject to lower business risk

» A cap factor is applied not only at the component level (5%) to ensure that no company can dominate the index, but also on supersector (30%) and country (40%) levels to ensure a high level of diversification

» Identification of the index universe is performed by an external independent party, Revere Data, LLC (San Francisco, USA), to guarantee transparent and independent stock selection

Methodology

The index universe is the STOXX Developed and Emerging Markets TMI. To be included in the STOXX Global Broad Infrastructure Index, a company must pass through the following criteria - generate more than 50% of its revenue in selected infrastructure sectors and have a minimum three-month average daily trading volume (3-month ADTV) of 1 million US dollars. The infrastructure sectors, which are based on a proprietary industry classification of a research partner, as well as the detailed methodology including the calculation formula, can be found in our rulebook: www.stoxx.com/indices/rulebooks.html

BACKTESTED PERFORMANCE

This document contains index performance data based on backtesting, i.e. calculations of how the index might have performed prior to launch if it had existed using the same index methodology and based on historical constituents. Backtested performance information is purely hypothetical and is provided in this document solely for information purposes. Backtested performance does not represent actual performance and should not be interpreted as an indication of actual performance.

CUSTOMIZATION

This index can be used as a basis for the definition of STOXX® Customized Indices, which can be tailored to specific client or mandate needs. STOXX offers a wide range of customization, in terms of component selection, weighting schemes and personalized calculation methodologies.
