

STOXX® ASEAN SELECT DIVIDEND 30 INDEX

Index description

The STOXX ASEAN Select Dividend 30 Index selects high dividend paying companies from the following ASEAN countries: Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, Vietnam, Singapore and Indonesia. The index consists of 30 components.

Key facts

» For better diversification, the number of components from each country is limited, preventing any one country from dominating the index.

» The GDP of the six ASEAN countries selected for this index is expected to grow at a much higher rate than developed nations over the next few years. These six nations also offer a good mix of the know-how of a developed country (Singapore) with the competitive costs and abundant resources and labor of less-developed nations.

» The index shows a net dividend yield higher than STOXX Asia Total Market Index, highlighting that a dividend strategy for ASEAN makes sense in an environment where developed and BRIC economies are showing poor performance.

» By incorporating a liquidity screening, the index is suited as an underlying for financial products. The index contains a 20-40 buffer rule.

Methodology

The STOXX ASEAN Select Dividend 30 Index is derived from the STOXX Asia Total Market Index (TMI). In a first step, all companies from the following countries are selected: Malaysia, Philippines, Vietnam, Thailand, Singapore and Indonesia.

To be included in the index, a company must have a minimum three-month average daily trading volume (3M ADTV) of USD2 mn. Excluded are stocks that have a payout ratio higher than 80% and stocks of real estate investment trusts (REITs). Vietnamese stocks whose foreign investment capacities are below 4% are excluded as well.

Finally, all remaining stocks are ranked by their 12-month historical dividend yield. The top 30 stocks are selected by applying a 20-40 buffer rule.

A cap of maximum 7 companies per countries (5 for Thailand) is allowed to
