Methodology

The iSTOXX Global Low Carbon ex-Controversial Activities Select 30 Index is based on the STOXX Global 1800 Index. Only companies with the lowest 70% carbon emission figures in the underlying index are considered for selection.

STOXX will exclude companies that Sustainability considers to be non-compliant with the Global Standards Screening, and companies involved in controversial weapons. Furthermore, companies involved in Weapons (Small Arms and Military Contracting), Conventional Oil & Gas, Unconventional Oil & Gas, Thermal Coal, Nuclear Power, Tobacco, Gambling, Adult Entertainment, Aerospace and Defence are also excluded.

The remaining companies are ranked in descending order of their dividend yields. The top ranking 150 companies are used to select 30 with the lowest volatilities with some industry, country and regional constraints.
