

STOXX® GLOBAL EXTENDED INFRASTRUCTURE 100 INDEX

Index description

The STOXX Global Extended Infrastructure 100 Index gives a diversified representation of the infrastructure sector. The index represents a fixed number of 100 infrastructure companies and suppliers to the infrastructure sector. To be a part of the eligible universe, 50% or more of the recent annual revenue of a company has to directly result from infrastructure business and/or supplying goods or services to companies in the infrastructure sector.

Key facts

» The index covers not only infrastructure asset owners but also suppliers to infrastructure companies. Due to heavy government ownership of infrastructure assets, public investment exposure to this sector has been limited

» By including a well-balanced group of asset owners and suppliers, the index gives investors a wider range of opportunities to profit from the infrastructure supply chain

» The identification of the index universe will be performed by an external independent party, Revere Data, LLC (San Francisco, USA), to guarantee transparent and independent stock selection

» To get a well-diversified sector allocation and a good representation of the infrastructure companies, the largest seven stocks of each sector measured by free-float market cap are chosen

Methodology

Selection is performed on the basis of free-float market cap and liquidity criteria. Only stocks from the STOXX Global Total Market Index (TMI) (minus China A-shares) with a three-month average daily trading value (3-month ADTV) of more than 1 million US dollars can be part of the index. The largest seven stocks of each sector measured by free-float market cap are chosen for the STOXX Global Extended Infrastructure 100 Index. Remaining components are selected from the next largest stocks, regardless of the sector. Each sector is capped at 20%. A component-level capping is triggered should the second largest component hit a 15% weight mark. The detailed methodology including the calculation formula can be found in our rulebook: www.stoxx.com/indices/rulebooks.html

BACKTESTED PERFORMANCE

This document contains index performance data based on backtesting, i.e. calculations of how the index might have performed prior to launch if it had existed using the same index methodology and based on historical constituents. Backtested performance information is purely hypothetical and is provided in this document solely for information purposes. Backtested performance does not represent actual performance and should not be interpreted as an indication of actual performance.

CUSTOMIZATION

The index can be used as a basis for the definition of STOXX® Customized Indices, which can be tailored to specific client or mandate needs. STOXX offers a wide range of customization, in terms of component selection, weighting schemes and personalized calculation methodologies.

<sup>3</sup> Net dividend yield is calculated as net return index return minus price index return
