Addition of the Texas Stock Exchange to the STOXX INVESTABLE UNIVERSE and the STOXX WORLD INVESTABLE UNIVERSE effective September 21st, 2026

Dear Customer,

STOXX Ltd., the operator of the ISS STOXX index business and a leading global provider of innovative and tradable index solutions, today announced the expansion of exchange coverage within the STOXX Investable Universe and the STOXX World Investable Universe to include securities listed on the Texas Stock Exchange, effective September 21, 2026.

Beginning 21st of September 2026, the United States market coverage within the STOXX Investable Universe and STOXX World Investable Universe will comprise the Nasdaq (XNAS), New York Stock Exchange (XNYS) and the Texas Stock Exchange (TXSE), thereby enhancing overall market representation and investable coverage.

This change will impact the STOXX Equity, iSTOXX Equity, STOXX World Equity, STOXX Investable Market, and DAX International Trend and Industry indices for which United States is included in the underlying country universe. Effective September 21, 2026, securities listed on the Texas Stock Exchange (TXSE) will be screened for eligibility for corporate action-related and IPO fast entry changes. Subject to meeting all applicable eligibility requirements, such securities will be considered in the December 2026 STOXX TMI Index Review and subsequent regular index reviews. The addition of the Texas Stock Exchange will be incorporated into Section 4.2 "STOXX Investable Universe" of the STOXX Index Methodology and Section 3.2 "STOXX World Investable Universe" of the STOXX World Index Methodology.
